ALBERTA FAIRS.

The following are the dates arranged at the conference on Thursday last for Alberta fairs from Edmonton to Calgary:

Edmonton, June 30th and July 1st and 2nd.

Wetaskiwin, July 2nd and 3rd.

Calgary, July 7th to 10th.

Strathcona, Aug. 13th and 14th.

Fort Saskatchewan, Aug. 17th and 18th.

Lacombe, Aug. 20th.

Olds, Oct. 3th.

Innisfail, Oct. 7th.

Red Deer, Oct. 8th and 9th.

It will be seen that there are three groups, mid-summer, late summer and fall. An effort was made to have all the dates follow each other but this was unsuccessful. The three groups are: Edmonton, Wetaskiwin and Calgary, mid-summer; Strathcona, Fort Saskatchewan and Lacombe, in late August; and Olds, Innisfail and Red Deer in early October.

Although it is a pity that an agreement could not be reached to have the fairs succeed each other directly, it is well to have them arranged so that the dates will not conflict and so that an exhibitor will have the opportunity to show at more than one at a time. The agricultural fair has come to be a recognized institution of this country, and every effort towards improvement should be encouraged.

AS TO THE MARKET

The petition which appears in another column against permitting cattle to run at large in town is no doubt very commendable in itself. Cattle should not be allowed to run at large in a town of the size and standing of Edmonton. But the inconvenience to people using the market is the smallest part of the trouble which they give and the most easily prevented. It seems slightly out of place, to say the least, that cattle should be fenced in for the protection of the market, when the first thing to be done with the market should be to fence it securely against unauthorized intrusion of all kinds. The market square is a mutual convenience to the farmer who has hay to sell and to the citizen who wants to buy. But the convenience to the farmer is very much lessened when his load of hay or produce left standing on the market is at the mercy of all the strays in town which naturally gather there as a good place for provender. The market square should be fenced, so that when farmers were invited or compelled to use it their property would be secure from depredation. A fence would cost but little and would be of great advantage to all.

Another thing that might be done to make the market more attractive and therefore more useful would be to erect drinking fountains along one or two sides of it where teams could be sheltered from stormy weather, and fed in comfort. Such a shed would cost but little and would induce the general use of the market by the farmers, thereby rendering it a greater convenience to the townspeople, to say nothing of avoiding the scandal of seeing teams tied up to wagons or engines, hour after hour, even in the most stormy weather, without shelter from wind or rain.

AS TO IMMIGRATION

The news that the Allan line has refused to accept immigrants for Canada from continental European ports, will not cause any outcry here in the West. The announcement that there are 5,000 now awaiting transportation at Hamburg, and an untold number at some point in Russia, does not change the western view of the case. Now that the West is getting plenty of immigrants of a desirable class from the eastern provinces of Canada, the Western States, the British Islands, Scandinavia, and North Germany. There is no reason why an indiscriminate rush of population from all countries of Europe should be encouraged. Rather there is every reason why it should be discouraged, for the very same reason as the Allan line have refused to take these immigrants, viz., that there are plenty of others offering. It is desirable to fill up the prairies of the West with producing people but it is still more desirable that the people themselves should be of such a class as will be helpful in building up and further improving our social and political systems and civilization. This is a good country, it is good enough for the best people on earth. Here they will find opportunity for the successful employment of their best abilities and highest qualities. It is too good for any but the best people and none but the best are wanted.

THE GREAT WHEAT BELT

Ocean Ports.
In considering the question of market for the ultimate production of the westerly portion of the Saskatchewan valley, it is well to consider that the Pacific coast is only some five to six hundred miles distant. That all ports on the Pacific coast of Canada are open all the year round, and that therefore not only are shipments to the world's market not restricted to the Atlantic seaboard, but there are distinct advantages in favor of shipment by the Pacific ports. The distance from Edmonton to the Pacific port of Vancouver, is 800 miles. At present there is only one line of railway, but with the construction of other lines to other ports on the Pacific coast, now in prospect, not only will the distance be lessened, but increased facilities will be afforded.

Any part of the Saskatchewan valley is as near ocean navigation on Hudson's Bay as it is to the navigation of Lake Superior. And a port on Hudson's Bay is as near Liverpool as is Montreal. There is no immediate prospect of a Hudson's Bay railway but it is as well to recognize the market possibilities which go with the geographical situation.

Railway Facilities.
The first intention of the government of Canada in regard to the Canadian Pacific railway was to construct it through the great Wheat Belt from Winnipeg to Edmonton and on to the Pacific coast by way of the Jasper Pass. Surveys were made over this route and a telegraph line built to Edmonton, in 1879. But when the present Canadian Pacific railway company took over the uncompleted scheme and pushed it through, they decided on a change of route to secure the shortest possible line from ocean to ocean. This carried the western part of the line through the southern grazing region instead of through the northern Wheat Belt, and left the whole Saskatchewan valley parallel to but 200 miles distant from a railway line. Of course serious agricultural development was impossible under those circumstances. In 1891, however, a branch line, the Calgary and Edmonton was completed to Edmonton. Although progress was slow at first yet once the railway was constructed the natural advantages of the district became known and development advanced with ever increasing rapidity. What was at first only a twice a week service by a mixed train from Calgary has now become a daily express serve with daily freights as well. The distance from Edmonton by this branch to the main line at Calgary is 200 miles. The distance west to Vancouver from Edmonton by way of Calgary is estimated at 800 miles, and eastward to Winnipeg, at 1050 miles. The time for passengers to either, Winnipeg or Vancouver is two and a half days from Edmonton.

The Calgary and Edmonton railway extends southward from Calgary one hundred miles to MacLeod, where it connects with the Crow's Nest branch of the Canadian Pacific, an east and west line, across the mountains. The Great Northern of the United States connects with the Crow's Nest road, at Lethbridge 35 miles east of MacLeod, and at Medicine Hat, 150 miles west. There is therefore a short rail connection with the western parts of the United States both east and west of the Rocky Mountains.

TO ENFORCE THE POUND BY-LAW.
The following is a copy of a petition presented to the town council at its last meeting:
"The petition of the undersigned farmers and others, having occasion to use the market in the town of Edmonton, respectfully sheweth:
"That your petitioners suffer great damage and annoyance from the fact that cattle and other live stock are allowed to run at large upon the market in the town of Edmonton and no adequate protection will be afforded your petitioners in the premises unless all live stock are prohibited from running at large throughout all business portions of the town.
"Therefore your petitioners respectfully request that effective measures may be taken to prevent all live stock running at large throughout the business portion of the town."

SMALL POX AT REGINA.
Dr. Patterson, Dominion quarantine officer, arrived in Regina, last week to inquire into a reported case of small pox. Dr. Low of Regina, had previously pronounced the case small pox and had recommended complete isolation. Other Regina doctors had made light of the case and endeavored to hush the matter up. The quarantine rules had not been observed and a party had been held at the house where the disease was said to exist. One of the affected family had been about the town for several days visiting hotels, restaurants, lodges, etc. Dr. Patterson at once established quarantine and communicated with the local officer of the Mounted Police to have the quarantine rules strictly enforced. So far no further cases have developed and Regina may, consider herself fortunate if she has escaped thus easily from such a wanton disregard of the quarantine rules.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE FOR THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES.
Communicated.
The difficulties that beset new settlers in the Northwest Territories in the matter of adapting their ways to local agricultural conditions will shortly be overcome by the establishment, at Regina, through private intervention, of an agricultural college and experiment station. The necessary funds have been provided to insure the work for a couple of years, and an efficient staff is being engaged to cover a series of three months' courses in the seven main branches of practical agriculture, under the managing direction of W. H. Coard, LL. D., of the Dominion department of agriculture. The fee for the short course will be ten dollars, and Dr. Coard will leave Ottawa for the West on the 2nd of March to "spray out the land," and arrange for the commencement of active educational operations. The staff will comprise professors of agriculture, chemistry, veterinary science, dairying, horticulture, and natural history and anatomy; a lecturer on domestic economy and cookery, and a bureau and librarian. Dr. Coard will hold the professorship of agriculture, and the lecturing on entomology; and the names of the other professors and lecturers will be announced during Dr. Coard's visit to the West. The syllabus will be issued shortly, and the short course will present exceptional opportunities to farmers sons as well as new settlers to receive an agricultural training of a practical character. The college is being established under substantial patronage, and while not being inaugurated by either federal or provincial legislatures, will receive the educational support of both.

White Shirt Waists.

OUR NEW BLOUSES

Will arrive in a few days.

WE HAVE ON HAND

A few very attractive White Waists carried over from last season.

THESE ARE NICE, DAINTY GOODS,
In many cases just as nice as the new goods now in transit. We might easily mix these with the new goods on arrival, and sell at full price, and no one would know the difference.

THAT IS NOT OUR WAY OF DOING BUSINESS,
however. We like to start the new season with new goods only. These waists will go on the bargain counter to be cleared at old stock prices. These prices ought to clear them quick.

Handsome lace-trimmed blouse, very stylish,
were $4.25, now $2.75

Dainty tucked and embroidered Muslin,
were 3.20, now 2 and 2.50

Neat Muslin, tucked and hem stitched,
were 1.75, now 1.25

Dainty Spot Muslin, with lace insertion and tucking, was cheap at 3, now 2.25

White Cambric, tucked, good value at 1, now 75c
Printed Percale, tucked, useful house waist,
was 1.75, now 1.25

The supply of these is limited

Come while you can get your size. 50c. isn't much, but it is a whole lot to save on a $1.25 Blouse.

EGG LAKE

On Sunday, March 1st, we had a double religious service in the school house. Rev. Father Simonia paid us his regular monthly visit, and mass was said also by Rev. Father Lessorre, who is returning from France to his mission on the Peace river. Father Lessorre was accompanied by a lay brother of his order, and also by Mr. Dugagne, who is going up north to build a boat for one of the Catholic missions. Alfred Beaudry took the party north from Egg Lake.

Mr. Gray, the Strathcona liveryman, came up on the 2nd for Mr. Jas. Shutt, whose wife is seriously ill in Strathcona. Mr. Gray arrived at N. E. Logan's at noon, and rested there with his horses while Mr. Logan went the remaining twenty miles and brought back Mr. Shutt. Mr. Gray and Mr. Shutt left for Edmonton about nine o'clock at night. Mr. Shutt is one of a number of settlers who have come lately from England, and are located north of Egg Lake.

N. E. Logan and his two sons have gone back to the bush to get out lumber for themselves and for Mr. T. J. Dwyer.

We understand that D. Maloney, M. L. A., is taking steps to have the road opened up north of Egg Lake. This would mean a great deal to the settlers who have come in to the north of us, and incidentally would benefit this part of the district as well.

March 5th.
